

ADJUSTMENTS FOR TRANSFER STUDENTS FOR 2003-2004 AND 2004-2005 CATALOG YEARS

Beginning with the 2003-2004 catalog, there are some rather large changes in the liberal studies major leading to certification of subject matter competency for admission into a multiple subject teaching credential (elementary school).

All students matriculating at SDSU (except Transfer Studies Degree admits) beginning with Fall 2003 will automatically be required to meet the new degree requirements as listed in the 2003-2004 and later catalogs, and as replicated on the liberal studies checklists.

To ease the transition for junior-level transfer students, the program has filed "blanket waivers" to allow students to satisfy specific requirements in the lower division preparation for the major that are allowed under the 2002-03 catalog. These blanket waivers will be in effect for students matriculating at SDSU in 2003-2004 and 2004-2005 only. (Students taking advantage of these waivers must note that to use the waivers, they must complete their degree by August 2008.)

These waivers will apply only to courses students have taken BEFORE transferring to SDSU. Any course taken after the student matriculates at SDSU must be part of the approved 2003 or later curriculum.

The blanket waiver exceptions are listed below (organized by requirement number, as found in the catalog and the checklist). Any part of the degree NOT listed below must be met as indicated in the 2003-2004 catalog.
